Unifog – A living part of Ligna 2013

Also this year Unifog Denmark will be represented at Ligna 2013 in Hannover, Germany. By its 10'th participation in Europe's no. 1 and one of the world's largest fairs in the wood industry, the company which have had a 20 year anniversary will be exhibiting with an active and working booth B49 in hall 17, which i.e. does appeal to the surface treatment and lacquer industry.

We do find this location very attractive, as we within the past 18 months – very successfully – have delivered 3 installations to the maritime generator manufacturer ABB in Finland. Ejvind Fromberg, one of the company owners does quote "Our experiences from these installations may be a benefit for the wood surface treatment industry"

Unifog Denmark who gone through a change of generations, have been updating as well their logo and their profile, and up to the Ligna fair their new web-site had been launched. In this process the company has been going from a well established partnership business to an also well established family business. 2 generations having the same family name and knowing each other for more than 40 years will from now on form the profile of the company. "We do see the benefits and we are ready to expand as much as the situation allows. The potential is still increasing as the economics in Europe gets better" does Thomas Fromberg, the 2'nd owner of the company quote.

The primary markets of Unifog Denmark will still be the wood industry with its related industries, but our vision will be covering bright in the celluloses industry, and we do also seek new opportunities.
